

Jessica Brein, M.Ed., has been coaching parents and leading classes for Jewish Family Services of York for the past 15 years.

She was educated at the University of Pennsylvania and the University of Pittsburgh. Over the years, she has helped hundreds of parents.

The mother of three, she is known for her down-to-earth speaking style, practicality, and sense of humor. Her many stories and case examples make her ideas clear and accessible to her audience.

What we do

The Parenting Place provides tips and tools for effective and enjoyable parenting.

Professionally led educational programs

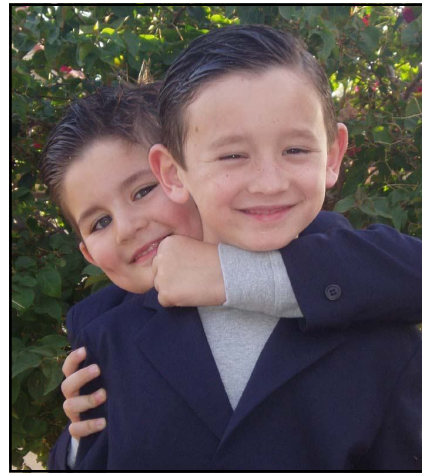

Our programs cover a range of topics and provide an opportunity to discuss childhood issues and common parental questions affecting families today.

Tailored workshops

Programs personally created for your organization or workplace. We can come to your neighborhood, to your school, to other community sites — or to your living room.

Individual consultations

One on one guidance in the privacy and comfort of our offices ... or your own home.

Some topics we can cover (or tell us what's on your mind)

- How to Talk So Kids Will Listen and Listen So Kids Will Talk
- Raising Fiscally Resilient Children
- Siblings Without Rivalry
- How to Be the Parent You Always Wanted to Be
- Time for School, Time for Bed: Shaping Behavior for More Enjoyable Mornings and Evenings

Costs

- Individual hour-long sessions are $52 each
- Group programming prices depend on group size, location and length
